

Support Offered to Faculty

The Center for Engaged Learning, Teaching, and Scholarship (CELTS) offers faculty development programs, workshops, fellowships, and consultations with faculty, academic departments, programs and schools. The following domains demonstrate how we support faculty and academic programs at Loyola University Chicago in the context of Engaged Learning courses, community-based learning, and high-impact learning programs and experiences.