

At Loyola, we care about violence.

Thousands of college students experience sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking each year. If you have experienced violence, you're not alone. We can help.

When you see this symbol on campus, you can get connected to help. Faculty and staff who display this symbol have received special training to talk with you about violence. You can talk to them about your experience, make a report, and be connected to resources—all in one step.

I'M HERE
FOR YOU.

LET'S TALK.
