

RESOURCES FOR STUDENTS: SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

All Loyola students have a right to be free from all forms of sexual and gender-based misconduct in the University community. Loyola takes seriously its obligation to provide an academic environment free from such misconduct and will provide appropriate support upon notice/request. The information below is intended to provide notice of various rights and resources to parties who may be affected by such conduct. If you have any questions or are seeking information regarding resources not referenced below, please contact the Office for Equity & Compliance (“OEC”) and one of our staff will be happy to assist you further.

Title IX

Title IX is a federal law that explicitly prohibits discrimination based on sex by any institution of higher education that receives federal funds (which includes Loyola). Under Title IX, certain types of sexual harassment, when occurring within the United States and within the University’s education programs or activities, constitute a form of prohibited sex discrimination.

Title IX requires a specific grievance process for complaints of Title IX sexual harassment, as distinct from other forms of Title IX sex discrimination and other forms of sexual harassment. Every educational institution receiving federal financial assistance must designate a “Title IX Coordinator” to carry out the institution’s obligations under Title IX. At Loyola, the Executive Director of the OEC is the Title IX Coordinator and is assisted in this function by several Deputy Title IX Coordinators.

Any person may report Title IX sex discrimination, including Title IX sexual harassment (whether or not the person reporting is the affected party), via the publicly available online reporting form available at LUC.edu/equity; in person; by mail, telephone, or email (see contact information below); or by any other means that results in the Title IX Coordinator receiving the person’s verbal or written report. Such a report may be made at any time (including during non-business hours) by using the online reporting form or other contact information provided.

Inquiries about Title IX at Loyola, or reports or complaints of any alleged Title IX violation may be directed internally to:

Right to Report

Any student who has experienced sexual and/or gender-based misconduct (including but not limited to sexual assault; sexual harassment; sexual exploitation; intimate-partner, dating, and/or domestic violence; and stalking) has a right to report the incident to Loyola, law enforcement (Chicago Police Department), both, or neither. Reports received by faculty or staff will be directed to the Office for Equity & Compliance (“OEC”) and will be considered private and sensitive.

- Any person may report Title IX sex discrimination or sexual harassment (whether or not the person reporting is the affected party), via the report form found here: https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?LoyolaUnivChicago&layout\_id=9
- Any student or employee (or prospective student/employee) may also file a complaint at any time. We recommend anyone considering a complaint first connect with a member of the OEC staff (equity@LUC.edu) to understand the implications.
  - For more information, visit the OEC’s “Reporting Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct” page: LUC.edu/equity/gethelp/reportingcomplaintoptions
  - CRP Complaint Form: https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?LoyolaUnivChicago&layout\_id=24

If any student wishes to receive confidential support (without triggering any additional outreach or action by the University), they should instead contact one of the following confidential University resources:

- Confidential Advisor/Advocate: Samantha Hammett, Violence Prevention & Advocacy Specialist (shammett@luc.edu)
- The Line at Loyola: 773-494-3810 or LUC.edu/wellness/gender-basedviolence/advocacyline
- The Wellness Center: LUC.edu/wellness

ETHICSLINE

EthicsLine is an additional reporting tool to provide you with an automated and anonymous way to report activities and behavior that may involve misconduct or violations of University policies. These activities may include, but are not limited to, fraud, abuse, behavioral concerns, and other misconduct in the workplace.

Due to the nature of certain claims, the University may be limited with respect to the actions it may be able to take in response to a report if the individual submitting the report chooses to do so anonymously.

- To file a report, call 855-603-6988 or utilize the online reporting form available at LUC.edu/ethicline.

Right to Assistance

Any individual who would like assistance notifying law enforcement or accessing and navigating campus and local medical and mental health services, counseling, and advocacy services may contact any of the campus resources listed below to request assistance. The primary points of contact for students requesting assistance with sexual misconduct matters are:

- The CURA Network: LUC.edu/cura
- Office of the Dean of Students: LUC.edu/dos
- Advocacy Services within the Wellness Center: LUC.edu/wellness/gender-basedviolence/advocacyline
- Office for Equity & Compliance: LUC.edu/equity

---

Right to Supportive Measures

Supportive measures are non-disciplinary and are designed to restore or preserve equal access to the University’s education program or activity without unreasonable burdening other parties, including measures designed to protect the safety of all parties or the University community, or deter prohibited conduct.

Affected parties, complainants, respondents, and witnesses involved in cases of alleged sexual misconduct may request supportive measures through the Office for Equity & Compliance – regardless of whether a complaint is filed. Additional information available at LUC.edu/equity.

Students can request supportive measures through the Office for Equity & Compliance, CURA Network (coordinated by the Office of the Dean of Students), and/or Advocacy Services within the Wellness Center. Available supportive measures may include but are not limited to:

- Temporary No Contact Directive (prevents another student, faculty member, or other employee from contacting you)
- Referrals for confidential counseling, advocacy services, or other wellness resources
- Reasonable accommodations to ensure safe access to academic spaces, housing, dining options, work, or transportation services
- Referrals for academic support, including faculty notifications
- Referrals to community-based resources for assistance with legal, visa, and immigration issues
