Major: Psychology
Minor: Sociology
- A.M. 1983 University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, Illinois
Major: Social Psychology
Minors: Industrial/Organizational Psychology
Quantitative Methods
- Ph.D. 1984 University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, Illinois
Major: Social Psychology
Minors: Industrial/Organizational Psychology
Quantitative Methods

Experience

- Assistant Professor 1984 - 1990: Loyola University of Chicago Applied Social Psychology Program (Associate member of Experimental Program)
- Associate Professor 1990 - 1996: Loyola University of Chicago Applied Social Psychology Program (Associate Member of Experimental Program)
- Graduate Program Director 1993 – 2002: Applied Social Psychology Program
- Professor 1996 - present: Loyola University of Chicago Applied Social Psychology Program
- Visiting Professor, Fall, 1999: Center for the Study of Group Processes, University of Kent, Canterbury UK.
- Department Chairperson 2003 - 2006: Loyola University Chicago, Department of Psychology.

Teaching Experience

Social Psychology, Applied Social Psychology (Graduate level), Industrial/Organizational Psychology (Graduate & Undergraduate level), Group Dynamics (Graduate level), Statistics (Graduate and Undergraduate level), Research Methods (General), Research Methods in Social Psychology (Lab & Field Settings)

Additional Teaching Interests

Decision-making, Attitudes, Cognitive Social Psychology, Psychology & Law

Research Interests

Small Group Performance: group decision-making and problem-solving, group information processing, group composition, models of group process, and shared cognitions.

Social Influence: majority and minority influence, asymmetric influences processes in groups, informational and normative influence in group decision-making.

Decision-making: information processing, attribution and causal inference, probabilistic inference, decision errors, frames and heuristics, process and outcome feedback.

Applied: group performance in organizations, legal decision-making, psychology and law, jury decision-making, jury selection, procedural and distributive justice.
