

Sponsored by Prof. Hille Haker,
Richard A. McCormick, S.J., Chair of Catholic Moral Theology

“Human Dignity in Applied Ethics”

A Graduate Student
Seminar with
Marcus Duewell

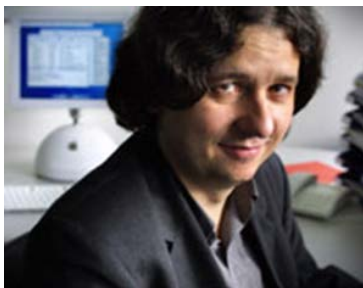

Pizza
and Refreshments

Depression era photograph taken by Dorothea Lange.

Friday, February 8, 2013, 11:30 A.M. – 2:00 P.M.
Coffey – McCormick Lounge

For more information, contact: Prof. Hille Haker at hhaker@luc.edu /773-508-2368

Prof. Duewell is Professor of Philosophical Ethics at Utrecht University. He is Research Director of the Ethics Institute of Utrecht University and Director of the Utrecht Research Institute for Philosophy, ZENO. His research concentrates on questions concerning the foundation of morality and on applied ethics in its relation to ethical theory and political philosophy. His publications include Ästhetische Erfahrung und Moral (2000) and Bioethik. Methoden, Theorien und Bereiche (2008).

